

ARCHITECTURE TO INTEGRATE DIFFERENT SOFTWARE SUBSYSTEMS

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A technique includes providing a first request to access a function that is associated with a first object model. The first request is converted into a second request that is associated with a second object model that is different from the first object model.

- 5 The technique includes creating an object that is associated with the second object model in response to the second request.